GRIT Metrics

GRIT Metrics Analysis

The GRIT (Ground Rate, Inverse BABIP, and Tolerance) metric measures a player's plate discipline, bad-luck avoidance, and ball type. It combines walk rate (BB%), inverse BABIP (to account for bad luck), and ground ball to fly ball ratio (GB/FB) to identify players who consistently make "gritty" at-bats. A higher GRIT score indicates better plate discipline and a tendency to hit ground balls rather than fly balls. The calculation uses current season statistics and is weighted to emphasize plate discipline and contact quality.

| Player                      | BB%  | BABIP | GB / FB | GRIT |
|-----------------------------|------|-------|---------|------|

Team Standings

The Team Standings section shows the current performance metrics for teams playing in today's non-final games. W/L represents wins and losses, PCT is the winning percentage, L10 shows the team's record in their last 10 games, STRK indicates the current win/loss streak, HOME/AWAY shows the team's performance in respective venues, and >.500 indicates if the team is above .500 winning percentage. This data helps in understanding team momentum and venue-specific performance.
